

There is no impact. The Bible is one of the most violent books ever published. Those that say there is too much violence are the bible thumping hate mongers. Maybe they should read more of what they preach then they will wistle a different tune. Stop controlling what we want to watch. People will not watch if they do not like it. Stop caving into the wallets and bibles of the minority.